Indiana Jones Marathon

The insignia for the marathon features a silhouette of Indiana Jones in the process of wielding his trusty whip. The border is in the shape of the golden idol that he discovers during the opening scenes of Raiders. The fade to pink at the top could indicate the monkey brains in Temple of Doom as the whole background recalls the closing sunset shot of Last Crusade. These are the three films that we will be watching over the course of this six-hour marathon.

Afterwards we shall move to the theater to see the brand-new Kingdom of the Crystal Skull, the much-anticipated fourth film in the saga.

What follows is a guide to the four films that make up the Indiana Jones series.
